

Estuarine and Coastal Sciences Association (ECSA)

ECSA is very pleased to be a sponsor of the REACH North East Atlantic Conference which accords so well with our aims. Founded in the UK in 1971, we are now an international organisation dedicated to the promotion and advancement of multidisciplinary research into all aspects of estuaries and coasts, and the application of science and technology for their sustainable environmental management.

Our vision is the generation of multidisciplinary knowledge required for the sustainable management and use of our estuaries and coasts.

In 2021 we will mark our 50th anniversary with a one-day celebration and conference in London. Next year we shall be holding one of our series of International conferences in the UK jointly with EMECS (Environmental Management of Enclosed Coastal Seas) 7th to 10th September at Hull University.

Why not join us? Come and talk to us on our stand today or go to our website:

<https://ecsa.international>